g. Advanced Intelligence Seminar. The 13th running of the Advanced Intelligence Seminar, 9-29 January, will have a new look. The major thrust will be a concentration on significant foreign policy and domestic issues. The course will open with a half week at [REDACTED] where the members of the Seminar will have the opportunity to get acquainted and to learn about major over-all problems facing the Agency and the Intelligence Community. Then the members will move to the Senior Seminar area for a week on foreign policy and a final week on domestic issues. The Seminar will wind up with a discussion by the members on the significant Agency, foreign, and domestic issues and hopefully will meet with the Director on the last day.
